RESE HONORED

By Moose Lodge

David G. Reese, 621 St. Mary's avenue, was made a past dictator of the Janesville lodge 197 of the Loyal Order of Moose at a meeting Tuesday night. The appointment came through the supreme lodge.

This is the first time in the history of Janesville that a member has been made a past dictator without ever having been a dictator.

Past Dictator Reese joined the Moose in Pennsylvania five years ago. He has been with the Bower city lodge since 1912, transferring here from Madison.

He joins the ranks of the following past dictators of Janesville: Floyd Davis, Adam C. C. Bauman, Floyd Davis, G. L. Fisher, William Hennings, J. J. Hines, Henry Kline, William Taylor, Dr. G. C. Waule and Dr. George Webster. Charles Newton is the present dictator.

JEFFERSON

Jefferson.—Judge George Grimm of the Jefferson county circuit court brought to a satisfactory settlement out of court the case of Arthur Wayne vs. Milo Green. A jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant in the suit of the Midland Lumber Product company vs. John Trust and Max Reuther.

A shortage of cement will again halt the construction of the cement road on Highway 26, going south of Watertown toward Booneville. J. J. Connel, contractor, has been buying sufficient cement from local dealers to enable him to work until Saturday, when he will have the most important stretch road. To date he has laid about 2500 feet. Saturday the mixer and the balance of the material will be stored for the winter, and work will not be resumed until spring. A fine road will be established, running from Watertown to several miles beyond Booneville, when the Connel contract is completed.

The use of standard tests as a means of determining the knowledge, mental ability or weak points of pupils in school now being used in the Jefferson schools, is a very recent development in educational methods. These tests have been in use in the public schools for several years. This year an unusually exhaustive study of the new students was made. Its purpose was to gain a knowledge of the preparation of the new pupils and their natural abilities so that the high school teachers could direct their efforts along lines where most help was needed. The results were tabulated and are being used as a guide by Supt. Earl C. MacIntosh and other members of the board of individual pupils. The results were also tabulated by schools from which the pupils came, to determine something regarding the preparatory work which the pupils in the grades. All results scores and papers are on file at the office. The tests included reading for speed and comprehension, punctuation, language, spelling, arithmetic for reasons, decimals and common fractions, and a general intelligence test. The individuals scoring highest on the tests on those eight grade subjects in the order of their rank are: Horace Burl, Mildred Monogue, Carl Duss, Katherine Connelly, William Lukas, Bernice Schimling, Grace Haman, Mary Mistle, Victor Buelow, Bernice Banker, Leonard Vogel and Marie Soeber. The highest ranking students on the Illinois general intelligence scale which is supposed to show native mental ability are: Carl Duss, Grace Haman, Gerald Kels, Mary Mistle, Horace Burl, Leonard Vogel, Bernice Banker, Marie Soeber, Robert Novins, Victor Buelow, William Lukas and Mildred Monogue.

Owen Moore and Marjorie Daw

IN HIS LATEST PRODUCTION

"LOVE IS AN AWFUL THING"

The story of "Love Is An Awful Thing" concerns the efforts of a young man to let the dead past bury its dead. But the Past, as embodied by an old sweetheart, refuses to do so. Mr. Moore, as the young man, then decides to take matters in his own hand as he wants to marry someone else, portrayed by Marjorie Daw. He tells the old flame he is a married man with six children. He hires a lady to pose as his wife and engages six children at a theatrical agency. Everything is going lovely when his fiancée comes upon him in the act of embracing his wife and fondling the younger ones. Then the fun, for the audience, begins. Moore encounters difficulty after difficulty and each is more unexpected and amusing than that preceding.

"Love Is An Awful Thing" is certainly cleverly done and is probably the best thing Moore has appeared in recently.

Janesville-Edgerton Grid Game Heads Saturday Features.

Copyright 1920 by Geo. McManus

HUGE CROWD WILL WITNESS ANNUAL INTERCITY BATTLE

The Janesville-Edgerton game here Saturday afternoon transcends all others in southern Wisconsin in interest. It starts with the kickoff coming at 2:30 p. m. The largest crowd seen at a prep school game here in years is expected.

Edgerton was hit by a crushing blow by Monroe two weeks ago, the blues were going like a house adrift. They recovered sufficiently last week to hold Monroe 7 to 6. Last year Edgerton defeated Janesville.

Edgerton, on the other hand, has five straight victories to its credit. If the spirit of the fall of the Tobacco city mirrors the sentiment of Coach Samster's team, the visiting eleven is coming here confident of keeping its state unswayed.

Knockout to Referee

It will be Homocentric day for Janesville. The entire work of the past week has been to get the outfit in shape to hold the mighty Edgerton offense and retaliate with a surprise. The Janesville team is in splendid physical shape.

The fighting powers will be evidenced by two distinct desires of the squad. The first is to maintain a clean record so that it may obtain a check at the state title. The Blues are out to break their losing streak.

Make Knapp, famous at Edgerton, an invincible years ago and a former captain of the Badger basketball team, has been procured to referee the game.

Port Has to Fight

The second teams play a preliminary game, starting at 1 p. m. Janesville defeated Edgerton seconds, 17-0, several weeks ago.

Port Atkinson's squad, scoring machine, will be at Stoughton Saturday. Coach Beach's team will play its hardest opponent so far this season. So far as comparative scores go, Port has the edge, having defeated both Stoughton and Union by much larger counts than Stoughton.

Monroe, the other outstanding team of this section, is at Lancaster today, where it is expected to have an easy time, if it continues its present gain.

Evansville at University

Evansville goes to University high to play on Camp Randall field. The previous results of these teams gives the Badger props the edge.

Beloit is at Woodstock. The Gateway city, which meets Janesville Nov. 18, is in a position to have a day on the championship race in the state two other schools have bobbed up as competitors. 25th and River Falls are handicapped and have tried their right to take part in the running.

Busy Man's Sport Page

BY FRANK SINGLAI

ONE of the things the Big Ten hoped to avoid by appointing Major Griffith its athletic commissioner, has happened. The Western Conference sought to keep the lid down on notoriety through the exposure of any charges of professionalism found in the ranks of its members.

WHILE THE SCHOOLS of the conference were against use of men guilty of playing as "pros," they desired to keep any such matters for the "round table." Publicity? Oh, no, that would be vulgar. A policy of warning each other was adopted, it now seems.

NO MATTER what else comes of the hunt started by Illinois and Wisconsin's reply to "let George explain" the counter-charges, it is revealed once again that the institutions appear to be the worst violators of rules. If the schools believe in the laws against professionalism which they have levied upon themselves, why doesn't each enforce them on its own men instead of "passing the buck"? Why so much distrustfulness?

RICHARDS of Wisconsin says when Commissioner Griffith was given the Badger information on the five Illinois men, he claimed he had no jurisdiction in that the cases were said to have happened prior to his taking office. But what is Griffith for? If the acts of these men offend the conference now, it would certainly appear he has good reason to exert his official duties.

THE MANNER in which Illinois and Wisconsin are sticking their tongues out at each other would be amusing were it not that each is presumed to be a great educational institution. It indicates the machinery of the Big Ten for handling these situations is not adequate, is too cumbersome or has not the sympathy of the several schools. At the same time, it is recalled that Wisconsin urged a man from without the conference be appointed commissioner. Hence the veiled hint by Richards that Griffith may not have cared to act, inasmuch as he formerly was a member of the Illinois athletic staff.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Harris Off Badger Team for Season; Squad, Confident

Minneapolis.—Crippled but confident, the University of Wisconsin football team left Thursday night for Minneapolis where it will meet Minnesota Saturday on Northern field in the Badger's first hard game of the season.

With Murray star tackle, at least temporarily out of the game because of his questioned eligibility, and Harris, plunging halfback, injured so seriously that he will be unable to play for the remainder of the season, the Wisconsin team was far from its full strength. In addition both Campbell and Gibson, halfbacks, are recovering from serious injuries.

Badgers Hurl Hot Reply; Illinois Sends Hotter One

Chicago.—With athletic relations between the Universities of Wisconsin and Illinois strained as a result of Thursday's cryptic exchange of charges of professionalism against football players of both schools and the banishment from Big Ten athletics of a player from each team, the Western Conference was more Friday over its newest football scandal, aftermath of the notorious Carlisle-Taylorville game last fall.

Wisconsin authorities contended the action of the conference eligibility board in barring J. A. E. Murray, Badger tackle, was unjustified because Murray was not registered student and was not attending any school when he played in the Taylorville game last year, the game which caused such a sensation last winter when nine Illinois players and several Notre Dame men were barred on charges of professionalism as a result of disclosures made by college authorities in their investigation.

He has produced evidence that he received no money for playing and Wisconsin insists he is still eligible says the Wisconsin statement.

Hitler Against Wisconsin.

Augur, the Illinois player banished yesterday, admitted playing at Taylorville but not in the famous game over which the trouble started.

Coach Richards of Wisconsin said he would protest four other players, Deagan, Yates, Robinson and Durant. Director Huff in his statement said Wisconsin confessed Graham, Illinois center, with Ed Greene who played guard last year and who was barred for playing at Taylorville.

The most severe criticism of Wisconsin was made by George Huff, veteran athletic director at Illinois, who accused Wisconsin of violating conference rules and ethics in making public the charges against the Illinois players.

Mellins Was Banned.

Director Huff charges Wisconsin had known since September that Murray played in the Taylorville game. In line with the agreement to drive professionalism out of the Big Ten, Illinois filed its information against Murray last September. Director Huff at the University of Illinois have written the Athletic Association at Wisconsin asking for proof of line's football players. Leaders in athletics here insist the charges, except as applying to Augur, who has been banned, are unfounded. Coach Zupke plans to use the line on Saturday against Northwestern. The hole left in the line by the withdrawal of Augur will be filled by Wagner.

Evansville Squad Ready for Madison

Evansville.—The local high school football team will take on the fast University high eleven at the fair grounds here Saturday.

Although the locals were defeated at Monroe last week, they put up such a good battle that a close game should be seen here Saturday. The Wisconsin High team met their first defeat last week when Edgerton beat them in the second half 14-13.

Capt. Barnum, Evansville's plunging fullback, will be unable to play because of injuries received in the Monroe game. Libby will do the punting and Funk will probably fill the fullback position against the University "Trops."

Reports from Madison show Coach Davis is taking no chances, but putting his team through long practice for the Evansville game.

MRS. CHAMPION IS GIVEN 20 YEARS

Maximum Manslaughter Sentence Imposed on Cleveland Woman Slayer.

Cleveland — Mrs. Mabel Champion, charged with the first degree murder of Thomas A. O'Connell, showman of New Haven, Conn., in a restaurant here last July, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury of seven women and five men in common pleas court Thursday. Judge Beron imposed the maximum sentence of 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary.

Witnesses testified O'Connell was shot during a fight with Champion. Mrs. Champion, it was stated, took a revolver from her bodice and, telling her husband to step aside, shot O'Connell three times as he lay on the floor.

Judge Beron denied a motion for a new trial.

The composition with which Mrs. Champion has watched the proceedings of the trial forsook her when the verdict was read.

Anti-Rush Move Up to Students

Milton — A resolution to do away with class scraps and rushes at Milton college was presented before the student body Thursday by the sophomore class, through its president, Charles Sutton.

Condemning the traditional class battles between freshmen and sophomores as dangerous, the resolution proposes that a series of safer contests be substituted. These would be held at the annual all-college picnic in September. Nocturnal street fights, automobile chases and other unofficial forms of scrapping would be outlawed, with penalties provided for students breaking the rules.

Public sentiment following the death of Roland Sayre, victim of this year's official class rush at Charley Bluff, led to the movement opposing freshman-sophomore scraps in the future. The resolution drawn up by the sophomore class will be acted on at a meeting of the student body next Thursday.

EXPECT SMITH TO WIN N. Y. ELECTION

Candidate Is Personally Popular Beyond Strength of Democratic Party.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

New York—Al Smith, democrat, personally popular beyond the strength of his party, the man who made the most remarkable run of any candidate in the United States against the republican landslide of 1920 and who was drafted again for service as governor, will undoubtedly be elected governor of New York.

Some national ideas are running here, there will be some significance to the votes of the cities here and there which may give comfort to those looking for nation wide currents, but basically it is Smith's personal popularity, the fearless public servant, a real personality in American politics, who will win—not the democratic party.

Smith, who could come within 10,000 votes of winning for governor in a year when the presidential nominee of the opposite party carried the state by the unprecedented majority of 1,000,000 votes would seem to have, on paper at least, the better chance of winning. This would be easy to forecast if one were sure Al Smith is as popular today as he was two years ago and that, conversely, Miller is not as strong.

Smith and Miller
For one thing, Governor Miller has been in office. The incumbent is on the defensive always. Al Smith is on the offensive. He is not new and in the eyes of the people he is not a candidate with much more fluency than the average candidate for governor who resorts to promises and pledges without really knowing the practical side of things. Governor Miller, on the other hand, who is one of the outstanding figures in the republican party in the nation, is a man of rare intellect and an aggressive figure. He is not the kind of man who is called a "good mixer" in politics. He is positive and firm and is ready for presidential call. His ardent admirers have hoped that if he triumphed he would be considered for the republican presidential nomination in the event that circumstances or personal wish persuaded him to run for a second term.

Hard Candidate
But unfortunately for Governor Miller he is running against the most difficult candidate to beat in a generation. Totally unlike Hughes, who gained popularity by his spectacular fight against the boss rule, unlike any of the other governors who came after Hughes, Al Smith is more of the Cleveland type—a man of the people. He is one of those "human beings in politics" which the mass seems to like.

Issues are of course made in every campaign but the New York state contest will be decided on the basis of the accumulation of emotions, on the one hand, inevitably developed by Governor Miller in his controversies on vital questions, and on the other hand, an accumulation of friendships gained against him by his spectacular fight against the boss rule, unlike any of the other governors who came after Hughes, Al Smith is more of the Cleveland type—a man of the people. He is one of those "human beings in politics" which the mass seems to like.

Miller at Rochester
In Rochester, a republican stronghold of many generations, Governor Miller had a meeting with less than 2,000 persons in attendance, but the crowds who flocked to hear Al Smith could not get in the hall.

What does it all mean? Simply that Governor Miller is not as strong as he was two years ago in the republican sections of the state and that he will come to New York City with a greatly reduced margin and will not be able to overcome Al Smith's majorities from the metropolis, which will be larger than two years ago. Some of the betting would seem to indicate a close election but election reasons are not apparent on the surface. It looks as if Smith would win by better than a comfortable majority.

New Gains Are Seen in School Enrollment Here

Report of the attendance department of the public schools for the month of October shows a continued increase in enrollment, and consequent increase in number of residents of the city. The population is shifting considerably, and in September and October, the number of school children enrolling was slightly larger than the number leaving the schools and city. Thus during October, 37 withdrew from school. Of these, 32 left the city, one was married, three died and one was sent to reform school. But the month's increase of four was made by the 41 entrants, coming from Deloit, Durand, Edgar, Elkhorst, Evansville, Indian Ford, and one from the rural section, all of this state; Rockford, Ill.; St. Paul, Minn., and even one from Sweden.

Occupations of the entrants, or guardians of the entrants, are of a great variety—agriculturist, cement worker, engineer, laborer, machinist, mason, mechanic, merchant, minister, painter, salesman, waiter, and so on. The increase of four now makes the total census enrollment stand at 4,215.

St. Patrick's school, with five cases, had the largest amount of truancy. Others, with one each, were Adams, Grant, high and Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln schools, the former with the largest attendance of any of the grade schools, held the record reported so far this year. The high school heads the list, with seven cases, and others are St. Patrick's, five; Washington, four; Webster and Grant, three each, and Adams, two.

Miss Rosemary Enright, attendance officer, was kept busy during the month with 55 cases reported for investigation. Seven were cases of truancy; 34 visits to homes were made; 10 visits to public, and five visits to parochial schools.

A total of 1923 number of days of absence were reported. Of these, the cause for 329 was unknown, for 933 was illness of various nature, while other causes were illness and death in the family, help at home, care of babies, missed bus, accidents, over-sleep, of which there were only two cases, lack of clothing, 40 for lack of shoes, with 40 days missed in this manner. This does not mean that 40 children were without them, for one child staying out a month would cause more than 30 days of absence. Other causes were: out of city, 189; moving, religious, neglect, truancy, social and a miscellaneous of seven.

The largest number of the illness was unclassified. Others in this class are: eye, ear, nose, throat, colds, contagion, tonsillitis, tonsilectomy, headache and sore hands and feet. Colds were the most prevalent, with 55 reported.

Weather, usually the cause for large number of absences when bad at all, was so good during October that it could not even be used for an excuse.

Baker Declares Tanlac Can't Be Beat
"Tanlac certainly did the work for me and I am feeling like a new man these days," declared James Whitaker, 551 1/2 S. Pierce St., Milwaukee, Wis., baker for the Quality Biscuit Co.

"I was all run down and had been for a year, and was feeling about as weak and used up as a man can and still manage to keep going. I was eating hardly enough to keep a bird alive. My back was so stiff I could hardly bend it and I was so nervous at times I would shake like I was having a hard chill."

"Tanlac has knocked out all my troubles, and the boys at the shop were so surprised at the change in me that some of them started talking Tanlac too. This medicine can't be beat for building a fellow up."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

APPLES EN MASSE IN CITY STORES

Variety and Price Shows Wide Range; Crop Is Immense.

Big apples, little apples, sweet ones, sour ones, red ones, green ones, some in paper, carefully wrapped, others in bushel baskets—apples, in short, are much in evidence in the midst of autumnal apple woods. Edgewood failed to overflowing with them, and as soon as the windows are filled they seem to empty again, so great is the demand this fall for this fruit.

The fruit is coming mainly from New York. The local supply is run high, as farmers either have sold all their produce, or are storing it for winter use.

Variety Is Great.
The variety of apples is about as great as the range of price. At present there are in the markets of the city, greenings, poplars, Baldwins, Hubbardsons, Jonathans, Tallmans and pound sweets, Macintosh and snows. These range in price from $1.50 to $2.50 per bushel, while some of the fancy apples come at so much per piece. The most fancy apples now in the city are the "Golden Eagle" and "Levy's" apples, which are selling at 50 cents a dozen.

Those selling at the price mentioned above per bushel bring around 10 and 15 cents per pound. Additional apple week has served to bring to the attention of people that famous proverb, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away," and has served to increase greatly the sale of apples, of which there is an immense crop this fall.

In many cities, the week was observed by distributing apples in the hospitals and making attractive and novel displays of apples in the windows of grocery stores.
